TRAVEL PLANS & INFORMATION

OIA recommends caution when traveling outside of the United States after you have graduated, while you are waiting for your OPT authorization. Your U.S. immigration status is determined by your I-94 card, and because the I-94 information is no longer available each time you depart from the United States, establishing your F-1 status while outside the country will be difficult if USCIS has questions about your application.

Do you intend to travel before you begin employment on OPT? ☐ Yes ☐ No
